CITATION

Short title

- 1 (1) This Act may be cited as the Summary Proceedings Act.
- (2) A reference in any enactment to the former Summary Convictions Act is a reference to this Act. R.S., c. 450, s. 1.

APPLICATION

Application of Act

- 2 (1) Subject to any special provision otherwise enacted, this Act applies to
- (a) every case in which a person commits or is suspected of having committed any offence or act over which the Legislature has legislative authority and for which such person is liable, on summary conviction, to imprisonment, fine, penalty or other punishment; and
- (b) every case in which a complaint is made to any justice in relation to any matter over which the Legislature has legislative authority and with respect to which the justice has authority by law to make any order, whether for the payment of money or otherwise.
- (2) Notwithstanding any special provision relating to appeals in any enactment, in every case referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of subsection (1), the provisions of this Act relating to appeals shall apply to each such case instead of the special provisions relating to appeals in the enactment and all appeal proceedings taken under the enactment shall be taken up and continued under and in conformity with the provisions of this Act as far as consistently may be. R.S., c. 450, s. 2.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE

Power to search and seize

2A (1) Notwithstanding any enactment, a peace officer or any other person charged with the enforcement of an enactment may, in accordance with this Act, search any building, receptacle or place and seize anything found therein.

(2) For greater certainty, nothing in this Act shall be construed as restricting the lawful authority of a peace officer or any other person to search, in accordance with any other enactment, any building, receptacle or place and seize anything found therein. 1990, c. 46, s. 1.

Search warrant

2B (1) A justice who is satisfied by information upon oath in the form prescribed in the regulations that there are reasonable grounds to believe that there is in a building, receptacle or place

(a) anything on or in respect of which any offence against an enactment has been or is suspected to have been committed; or

(b) anything that there are reasonable grounds to believe will afford evidence with respect to the commission of an offence against an enactment, may at any time issue a warrant under the justice's hand authorizing a peace officer

(c) to search the building, receptacle or place for any such thing and to seize it; and

(d) to, as soon as practicable, bring the thing seized before, or make a report in respect thereof to, the justice or some other justice in accordance with Section 2E.

(1A) A justice of the peace or a judge of the provincial court may issue an investigative warrant authorizing a peace officer to, subject to this subsection, use any investigative technique or procedure or do any thing described in the warrant that would, if not authorized, constitute an unreasonable search or seizure in respect of a person or a person's property if

(a) the justice of the peace or judge of the provincial court, as the case may be, is satisfied by information under oath that there are reasonable grounds to believe that an offence against an enactment listed in Schedule B has been, is being or will be committed and that information or other evidence concerning the offence will be obtained through the use of the technique or procedure or the doing of the thing;

(b) the justice of the peace or judge of the provincial court, as the case may be, is satisfied that it is in the best interest of the administration of justice to issue the warrant; and

(c) there is no other provision in this or any other Act of the Legislature that would provide for a warrant or order authorizing the technique or procedure to be used or thing to be done.

(1B) Nothing in subsection (1A) shall be construed so as to permit interference with the bodily integrity of any person, the use of any device to intercept private communications as provided for in Part VI of the Criminal Code (Canada) or the taking of samples of bodily substances for the purpose of forensic DNA analysis.

(1C) An investigative warrant shall authorize a peace officer to enter and search the place for which the warrant was issued and, without limiting the powers of the justice of the peace or the judge of the provincial court under subsection (1A), the warrant may, in respect of the alleged offence, authorize the peace officer to enter the place for which the warrant is issued, and

(a) search for and examine and copy any drawings, specifications, licence, document, record or report;

(b) search for and examine any equipment, machine, device, article, thing, material or biological, chemical or physical agent;

(c) require a person to produce any item described in clause (a) or (b);

(d) conduct or take tests of any equipment, machine, device, article, thing, material or biological, chemical or physical agent, and take and carry away samples from the testing; and

(e) take measurements of and record by any means the physical circumstances of the place.

(1D) A peace officer who executes a warrant issued under subsection (1A) may seize or examine and copy any drawings, specifications, licence, document, record or report or seize or examine any equipment, machine, device, article, thing, material or biological, chemical or physical agent, in addition to those mentioned in the warrant, that the officer believes on reasonable grounds will afford evidence in respect of an offence against an enactment.

(1E) A person authorized under this Section to search a computer system in a building or place for data may

(a) use or cause to be used any computer system at the building or place to search any data contained in or available to the computer system;

(b) reproduce or cause to be reproduced any data in the form of a print-out or other intelligible output;

(c) seize the print-out or other output for examination or copying; and

(d) use or cause to be used any copying equipment at the place to make copies of the data.

(1F) Every person who is in possession or control of any building or place in respect of which a search is carried out under this Section shall, on presentation of the warrant, permit the person carrying out the search to

(a) use or cause to be used any computer system at the building or place in order to search any data contained in or available to the computer system for data that the person is authorized by this Section to search for;

(b) obtain a hard copy of the data and to seize it; and

(c) use or cause to be used any copying equipment at the place to make copies of the data.

(1G) A hard copy print-out of data from a computer made pursuant to subsection (1E) or (1F) is, if it purports to be certified as a true copy by the person who caused the print-out or hard copy to be produced or the person in whose presence the copy was made admissible in evidence and, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, has the same probative force as the original data would have if it had been proved in the ordinary way.

(1H) An investigative warrant is valid for thirty days or for such shorter period as may be specified in it by a justice of the peace or a judge of the provincial court and may, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, include provisions for re-entry to the place for the purpose of subsection (1A).

(1I) An investigative warrant shall contain terms and conditions in addition to those provided for in subsections (1A) to (1H) as the justice of the peace or judge of the provincial court, as the case may be, considers advisable to ensure that any search or seizure authorized by the warrant is reasonable in the circumstances.

(1J) A warrant issued under subsection (1A) that authorizes a peace officer to observe, by means of a television camera or other similar electronic device, any person who is engaged in activity in circumstances in which the person has a reasonable expectation of privacy shall contain such terms and conditions as the justice of the peace or judge of the provincial court considers advisable to ensure that the privacy of the person or of any other person is respected as much as possible.

(1K) A justice of the peace or judge of the provincial court may issue further warrants under subsection (1A).

(1L) Nothing in this Section restricts any power or duty of a peace officer under any enactment including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the power to conduct an inspection.

(1M) A justice of the peace or judge of the provincial court may, on application made at the time of issuing a warrant under this or any other enactment or at any time thereafter, make an order prohibiting access to and the disclosure of any information relating to the warrant or information on the ground that

(a) the information might be used for an improper purpose; or

(b) the ends of justice would be subverted by the disclosure on the grounds that disclosure of the information would

(i) compromise the identity of a confidential informant,

(ii) compromise the nature or extent of an ongoing investigation,

(iii) endanger a person engaged in particular intelligence-gathering techniques and thereby prejudice future investigations in which similar techniques would be used,

(iv) prejudice the interests of an innocent person, or

(v) in the opinion of the justice of the peace or judge of the provincial court, subvert the ends of justice in some other way;

(c) the ground referred to in clause (a) or (b) outweighs in importance the access to and disclosure of the information.

(1N) Where an order is made under subsection (1M), all documents relating to the application shall, subject to any terms and conditions that the justice of the peace or judge of the provincial court considers desirable in the circumstances, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any term or condition concerning the duration of the prohibition, partial disclosure of a document, deletion of any information or the occurrence of a condition, be placed in a packet and sealed by the justice of the peace or judge of the provincial court immediately on determination of the application, and that packet shall be kept in the custody of the court in a place to which the public has no access or in any other place that the justice of the peace or judge of the provincial court may authorize and shall not be dealt with except in accordance with the terms and conditions specified in the order or as varied under subsection (1O).

(1O) An application to terminate the order or vary any of the terms and conditions of an order made under subsection (1M) may be made to the justice of the peace or judge of the provincial court who made the order or a judge of the court before which any proceedings arising out of the investigation in relation to which the warrant was obtained may be held.

(2) A search warrant issued pursuant to this Section shall be in the form prescribed in the regulations, varied to suit the case.

(3) An endorsement that is made on a warrant as provided for in subsection (2) is sufficient authority to the peace officers or such persons to whom it was originally directed and to all peace officers to execute the warrant and to deal with the things seized in accordance with Section 2D or as otherwise provided by law.

(3A) A warrant may authorize persons who have special, expert or professional knowledge to accompany and assist a peace officer in the execution of the warrant.

(4) Subject to subsection (4A), where a peace officer believes that an offence against an enactment has been committed or is suspected to have been committed and has grounds to apply for a warrant under subsection (1) or (1A), the peace officer may submit an information on oath by telephone or other means of telecommunication to a justice designated for that purpose by the Chief Judge of the Provincial Court.

(4A) An information by telephone or other means of telecommunication that does not produce a writing may only be submitted in circumstances in which it would be impracticable to appear personally before a justice of the peace or a judge of the Provincial Court to apply for a warrant.

(5) An information submitted by telephone or other means of telecommunication must be on oath and must be recorded word for word by the justice, who must, as soon as reasonably possible, cause the record or a transcription of it, certified by the justice as to time, date and contents, to be filed with the clerk of the court.

(6) An information on oath submitted by telephone or other means of telecommunications that does not produce a writing must include a statement of the circumstances that make it impracticable for the peace officer to appear personally before a justice of the peace or a judge of the Provincial Court.

(6A) An information submitted by telephone or other means of telecommunication to obtain a warrant to search for anything permitted by subsection (1) must include

(a) a statement of the offence alleged, the place or premises to be searched and the items alleged to be liable to seizure;

(b) a statement of the peace officer's grounds for believing that the items liable to seizure in respect of the offence alleged will be found in the place or premises to be searched; and

(c) a statement as to any prior application for a warrant under this Section or any other search warrant, in respect of the same matter, of which the peace officer has knowledge.

(6B) An information submitted by telephone or other means of telecommunication to obtain a warrant to search for anything permitted by subsection (1A) must include

(a) a statement of the offence alleged, the place or premises to be searched;

(b) a statement of the investigative technique or procedure or any other thing sought to be authorized by the warrant and the peace officer's grounds for believing that information and other evidence concerning the offence will be obtained through the use of the technique or procedure or the doing of the thing; and

(c) a statement as to any previous application for a warrant under this Section or any other search warrant, in respect of the same matter, of which the peace officer has knowledge.

(7) A justice of the peace or a judge of the Provincial Court who is satisfied that an information submitted pursuant to subsection (4)

(a) concerns an offence punishable on conviction under an enactment;

(b) conforms to the requirements of subsection (6), (6A) or (6B); and

(c) discloses reasonable grounds, in accordance with subsection (1) or (1A), for the issuance of a warrant in respect of an offence, may issue a warrant to a peace officer that

(d) confers the same authority respecting search and seizure as may be conferred by a warrant issued under subsection (1) or (1A); and

(e) requires the warrant to be executed within a period of time that the justice of the peace or the judge of the Provincial Court may order.

(8) Where a justice issues a warrant by telephone or other means of telecommunication that does not produce a writing,

(a) the justice shall complete and sign the warrant in the form prescribed in the regulations, varied to suit the case, and noting on its face the time, date and place where it is issued;

(b) the peace officer, on the direction of the justice, shall complete, in duplicate, a facsimile of the warrant referred to in clause (a), noting on its face the name of the justice who issued it and the time, date and place where it was issued; and

(c) the justice shall, as soon as practicable after the warrant has been issued, cause the warrant to be filed with the clerk of the court.

(8A) Where a justice of the peace or a judge of the Provincial Court issues a warrant by other means of telecommunication that produces a writing,

(a) the justice of the peace or the judge of the Provincial Court shall complete and sign the warrant in the form prescribed in the regulations, varied to suit the case, and note on its face the time, date and place where it is issued;

(b) the justice of the peace or the judge of the Provincial Court shall transmit the warrant by the means of telecommunication to the peace officer who submitted the information and the copy of the warrant received by the peace officer is deemed to be a facsimile;

(c) the peace officer shall procure a second copy of the warrant which is deemed to be a facsimile; and

(d) the justice of the peace or the judge of the Provincial Court shall, as soon as practicable after the warrant has been issued, cause the warrant to be filed with the clerk of the court.

(9) A peace officer who executes a warrant issued by telephone or other means of telecommunication shall, before entering the place or premises to be searched or as soon as practicable after entering, give a facsimile of the warrant to any person present who appears to be in control of the place or premises.

(10) A peace officer who, in any unoccupied place or premises, executes a warrant issued by telephone or other means of telecommunication shall, on entering the place or premises or as soon as practicable after entering, cause a facsimile of the warrant to be suitably affixed in a prominent place within the place or premises.

(11) A peace officer to whom a warrant is issued by telephone or other means of telecommunication shall file a written report with the clerk of the court as soon as reasonably possible but within a period not longer than seven days after the warrant has been executed, and the report shall include

(a) a statement of the time and date the warrant was executed or, if the warrant was not executed, a statement of the reasons why it was not executed;

(b) a statement of the things, if any, that were seized under the warrant and the location where they are being held; and

(c) a statement of the things, if any, that were seized in addition to the things mentioned in the warrant and the location where they are being held, together with a statement of the peace officer's grounds for believing that those additional things had been obtained by, or used in, the commission of an offence.

(12) As soon as reasonably possible, the clerk of the court with whom a written report is filed under subsection (11) shall cause the report, together with the information on oath and the warrant to which it pertains, to be brought before a justice to be dealt with under Section 2F.

(13) In any proceeding in which it is material for a court to be satisfied that a search or seizure was authorized by a warrant issued by telephone or other means of telecommunication, the absence of the information on oath, transcribed and certified by the justice as to time, date and contents, or of the original warrant, signed by the justice and carrying on its face a notation of the time, date and place of issuance, is, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, proof that the search or seizure was not authorized by a warrant issued by telephone or other means of telecommunication. 1990, c. 46, s. 1; 2000, c. 28, s. 95; 2002, c. 30, s. 20; 2012, c. 8, s. 18; 2015, c. 6, s. 47.

Time of execution

2C A warrant issued pursuant to Section 2B shall be exercised between the hours of eight o'clock in the forenoon and nine o'clock in the afternoon, unless the justice of the peace or the judge of the Provincial Court

(a) is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds in the information for the warrant to be executed between the hours of nine o'clock in the afternoon and eight o'clock in the forenoon; and

(b) provides in the warrant that it may be executed during those hours. 2002, c. 30, s. 21; 2015, c. 6, s. 48.

Additional power to seize

2D (1) A peace officer who executes a warrant issued pursuant to Section 2B may seize, in addition to the things mentioned in the warrant, anything that on reasonable grounds the peace officer believes has been obtained by or has been used in the commission of an offence.

(2) A peace officer may remove any thing seized under a warrant from the place from which it was seized or may detain it in that place.

(3) Although a warrant issued under subsection (1) of Section 2B would otherwise be required, a peace officer may exercise any of the powers described in those subsections without a warrant if the conditions for obtaining the warrant exist but by reason of exigent circumstances it would be impracticable to obtain the warrant.

(4) For the purpose of subsection (3), exigent circumstances include circumstances in which the delay necessary to obtain a warrant would result in danger to human life or the loss or destruction of evidence. 1990, c. 46, s. 1; 2002, c. 30, s. 22.

Return of thing seized under warrant

2E (1) Where a person has seized anything under a warrant issued pursuant to Section 2B or seized anything pursuant to Section 2D, or otherwise in the execution of that person's duties under any enactment and subject to that enactment, that person shall, as soon as practicable,

(a) where that person is satisfied,

(i) that there is no dispute as to who is lawfully entitled to possession of the thing seized, and

(ii) that the continued detention of the thing seized is not required for the purposes of any investigation, inquiry, trial or other proceeding, return the thing seized, on being issued a receipt therefor, to the person lawfully entitled to its possession and report to the justice who issued the warrant or some other justice that the thing has been returned; or

(b) where that person is not satisfied as described in paragraphs (i) and (ii) of clause (a),

(i) bring the thing seized before the justice referred to in clause (a), or

(ii) report to the justice that that person has seized the thing and is detaining it or causing it to be detained, to be dealt with by the justice in accordance with subsection (1) of Section 2F.

(2) A report to a justice pursuant to this Section shall be in the form prescribed in the regulations, varied to suit the case. 1990, c. 46, s. 1.

Powers of justice

2F (1) Where, pursuant to Section 2E, anything that has been seized is brought before a justice or a report in respect of anything seized is made to a justice, the justice shall

(a) where the lawful owner or person who is lawfully entitled to possession of the thing seized is known, order it to be returned to the lawful owner or that person, as the case may be, unless the justice is satisfied that the detention of the thing seized is required for the purposes of any investigation, inquiry, trial or other proceeding; or

(b) where the justice is satisfied that the thing seized should be detained for a reason set out in clause (a), detain the thing seized or order that it be detained, taking reasonable care to ensure that it is preserved until the conclusion of any investigation or until it is required to be produced for the purposes of a inquiry, trial or other proceeding.

(2) Nothing shall be detained pursuant to clause (b) of subsection (1) for a period of more than three months after the day of the seizure or for any longer period that ends when an application made under clause (a) is decided, unless

(a) a justice, on the making of a summary application to the justice after three clear days notice thereof to the person from whom the thing detained was seized, is satisfied that, having regard to the nature of the investigation, its further detention for a specified period not to exceed six months from the date of the order is warranted and the justice so orders; or

(b) an inquiry, trial or other proceeding is instituted in which the thing detained may be required.

(2A) Applications to detain things seized beyond the period prescribed in clause (a) of subsection (2) must be made to a judge of the provincial court, on the making of a summary application after three clear days' notice to the person from whom the thing detained was seized, and the judge may order a further period of detention if satisfied, having regard to the complex nature of the investigation, or because the thing might reasonably be required for the purposes of a potential inquiry, trial or other proceeding, that the further detention of the thing seized is warranted for a specified period and subject to such other conditions as the judge considers just and so orders.

(2B) An application under subsection (2A) is not required if proceedings are instituted in which the thing detained may be required before the expiry of an order made under subsection (2);[.]

(2C) More than one application may be made under subsection (2A).

(2D) A thing may be detained under clause (b) of subsection (1), for any period, whether or not an application for an order is made under clause (a) of subsection (2) or subsection (2A), if the lawful owner or person who is lawfully entitled to possession of the thing seized consents in writing to its detention for that period.

(3) When a proceeding is instituted, the justice shall forward anything detained pursuant to subsection (1), (2) or (2A) to the clerk of the court to which the defendant has been ordered to stand trial or to the authority conducting the proceeding to be detained and disposed of as the court or authority directs.

(4) Where at any time before the expiration of the periods of detention provided for or ordered pursuant to subsection (2) or (2A) in respect of anything seized, the peace officer or other person who seized the thing determines that the continued detention of the thing seized is no longer required for any purpose mentioned in subsection (1) or (3), the peace officer or other person, as the case may be, shall apply to a justice who shall, after affording the person from whom the thing was seized or the person who claims to be the lawful owner thereof or person entitled to its possession, if known, an opportunity to establish that that person is lawfully entitled to the possession thereof, make an order in respect of the property pursuant to subsection (8).

(5) Where the periods of detention provided for or ordered pursuant to subsection (1), (2) or (2A) in respect of anything seized have expired and proceedings have not been instituted in which the thing detained may be required, the peace officer or other person who seized the thing shall apply to a judge of the provincial court referred to in subsection (6) in the circumstances set out therein, for an order in respect of the property pursuant to subsection (9).

(6) A person from whom anything has been seized may, after the expiration of the periods of detention provided for or ordered pursuant to subsection (1), (2) or (2A) and on three clear days notice to the Attorney General, apply summarily to a judge of the provincial court for an order pursuant to clause (a) of subsection (8), that the thing seized be returned to the applicant.

(7) A judge of the provincial court may allow an application to be made pursuant to subsection (6) prior to the expiration of the periods referred to therein where the judge is satisfied that hardship will result unless such application is so allowed.

(8) If a judge of the provincial court is satisfied that the periods of detention provided for or ordered pursuant to subsection (1), (2) or (2A) in respect of anything seized have expired and proceedings have not been instituted in which the thing detained may be required or, where such periods have not expired, that the continued detention of the thing seized is not required for any purpose mentioned in subsection (1) or (3), the judge shall

(a) if possession of it by the person from whom it was seized is lawful, order it to be returned to that person; or

(b) if possession of it by the person from whom it was seized is unlawful and the lawful owner or person who is lawfully entitled to its possession is known, order it to be returned to the lawful owner or to the person who is lawfully entitled to its possession, as the case may be, and the judge may, if possession of it by the person from whom it was seized is unlawful and the lawful owner or person who is lawfully entitled to its possession is not known, order it to be forfeited to His Majesty in right of the Province, to be disposed of as the Attorney General directs, or otherwise dealt with in accordance with the law.

when the conviction was first entered by a court, whether having original or appellate jurisdiction over the offence.

(2) Nothing in this Section affects the liability of the person convicted to any punishment, imprisonment or other penalty imposed by or in respect of a conviction for an offence at the date of conviction.

(3) Where a conviction for an offence has lapsed by virtue of this Section, the person who was convicted of the offence is not required to

(a) disclose the fact that he was convicted of the offence;

(b) answer affirmatively or negatively any question tending to disclose the fact that he was convicted of the offence.

(4) Where the provisions of this Section conflict with the provisions of any enactment with respect to the effect of a conviction for an offence, the provisions of this Section shall govern. R.S., c. 450, s. 11.

RELIEF FROM MANDATORY IMPRISONMENT

(3) Nothing in this Section affects the power or authority, discretionary or otherwise, of a court to impose imprisonment upon a person convicted of an offence if imprisonment is authorized or permitted by law.

(4) When the provisions of this Section conflict with the provisions of any enactment or regulations made under any enactment, the provisions of this Section shall govern. R.S., c. 450, s. 12.

WARRANTS OF DISTRESS AND COMMITMENT

Distress or commitment for non-payment

13 (1) Whenever a conviction or an order requires the payment of a sum of money by a defendant, the summary conviction court may order that, in default of payment, the sum of money shall be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the defendant and, if sufficient distress cannot be found, that the defendant be imprisoned in the manner and for the time directed by the enactment authorizing the conviction or order, unless the sum of money and the costs and charges of the distress and commitment are sooner paid.

(2) The summary conviction court making the conviction or order mentioned in subsection (1) may issue a warrant of distress in Form 1 or 2 in Schedule A, as the case requires.

(3) If a warrant of distress is issued, and the peace officer charged with the execution thereof returns in Form 3 in Schedule A that he can find no goods or chattels to levy upon, the summary conviction court may issue a warrant of committal in the manner and form prescribed in the Criminal Code (Canada). R.S., c. 450, s. 13; 2002, c. 30, s. 25.

Execution elsewhere if insufficient distress realized

14 (1) Where, after delivery of a warrant of distress to a peace officer to be executed, sufficient distress cannot be found within the limits of the jurisdiction of the summary conviction court granting the warrant, a summary conviction court of another territorial jurisdiction, upon proof on oath or by affidavit of the signature of the person who issued the warrant, shall indorse the warrant authorizing its execution within the limits of its jurisdiction and that part of the sum of money not before levied or paid shall be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the defendant by any peace officer.

(2) The indorsement referred to in subsection (1) may be in Form 4 in Schedule A. R.S., c. 450, s. 14; 2002, c. 30, s. 26.

Application for order to cease execution

15 (1) A defendant, or member of the family of a defendant, against whom a warrant of distress has been issued, may make an application to a summary conviction court for an order directing the peace officer to whom the warrant has been given for execution to cease the execution and to return any goods and chattels levied thereunder and remaining unsold.

(2) Upon receiving an application, the summary conviction court may order the temporary discontinuance of action under the warrant of distress and shall fix a day for the hearing of the application and direct that notice of the hearing be given to such persons and in such manner as may be specified.

(3) Upon the hearing of the application and where it appears that the execution of a warrant of distress would impose undue hardship on the defendant or his family, the summary conviction court may order the peace officer to whom the warrant has been given for execution to cease the execution and to return any goods and chattels levied thereunder and remaining unsold. R.S., c. 450, s. 15.

Execution ceases upon payment of sum due

16 Where a warrant of distress has been issued against any person, and the person pays or tenders to the peace officer having the execution of the same, the sum or sums in the warrant mentioned, together with the amount of the expenses of the distress up to the time of payment or tender, the peace officer shall cease to execute the warrant. R.S., c. 450, s. 16.

Entry of fine as judgment

(2) An order that is entered as a judgment pursuant to subsection (1) is enforceable in the same manner as if it were a judgment obtained by the person or body, as the case may be, in a civil proceeding. 1999 (2nd Sess.), c. 8, s. 21.
